DISTRICT NEWS

Happenings of Local and General Interest

Work on the new Toby bridge is progressing favorably.

G. Rehder is improving the appearance of his store building by a new front.

Mrs. E. J. Scovil went over to Windermere Sunday to spend a week visiting friends.

If the smelter to be built at Golden is to be a custom smelter it should prove a boon to this district.

Mrs. Field, of Nanaimo, arrived in Windermere last week on a visit to her sister, Mrs. A. Tagert.

A public meeting of the citizens of Wilmer is called for tonight (Thursday) for the purpose of electing a school trustee in the place of G. Rehder, who has resigned.

How long capitalists will regret that that they did not push the golden gates of the Windermere ajar and enter when claims could have been purchased at their own prices.

The mining industry in the Windermere district was never in a more healthy condition than it is today, despite all the adverse condition to be contended with. The Windermere is all right and is only creeping as yet.

G. Doherty and W. Haylmer are preparing to put in a camp four miles up Law creek from the Horse Thief road, and will work all winter on the group of claims they discovered this season. They have a good surface showing.

M. H. Crask, mayor of Canterbury, gave The Outcrop a pleasant call on Monday. He says things are running along quite smoothly in his city and he has ventured to leave its limits several times this year. The city water works have worked splendidly all summer and only once needed repair. He says he can't all the chicken and duck he can eat and grows the best potatoes in the world. Come again, Mac.

The Morrissey Miner Vol. I., No 1, has arrived at this office. It is a bright, live four page, seven column weekly newspaper, and is published by T. E. Simpson, the well-know "Old Man" of the Cranbrook Herald. It assays high in local news and items from the Herald, but its paystreak of ads. is very narrow. Yet it evidently will widen as the Miner says that over $8,000 worth of property was sold the first day Morrissey lots were put on the market. Success to you Miner. But say, "Old Man," with three papers on your hands don't you feel quite ancient?

A Good Correspondant.

"Your Golden correspondent gives more news than any paper I ever saw published in Golden, and I have lived there several years." I think the people of my town should recognize the free advertising we get, and have their businesses advertised in The Outcrop as a business proposition, but we are certainly slow in allowing business to pass through and out of our town when by simply telling the people, through your paper, that we have the things they want we could capture the trade. It is good to know, however, that you have discovered one person, whoever it may be, who has the interest of our town at least and who has the ability, to supply you with the news of Golden. Your correspondent has done more for our town this summer than all the rest of us put together," remarked a Golden man recently to our reporter and he struck the nail fairly.

Bob Intram has gone to Nevada for the winter.

Ole Iverson left Athalmer Sunday for West Kootenay.

Mrs. J. Bulman, of Windermere, has been visiting Mrs. Thos. Starbird, at Blowfly ranch, for the past week.

Miss Hattie Rutherford has returned to Golden, after spending several weeks in Athalmer visiting her aunt, Mrs. Joe Lake.

Bob McKeenan and M. O'Grady left Sunday for Bugaboo creek to commence development work on Bugaboo group. They intend to continue work until about Christmas.

Mrs. H. B. Washburn and her two children started for Golden on the Hyak Sunday en route to her home in Ontario, where they will spend the winter and intend returning to Wilmer next spring.

Sinclair Craig, of Windermere, has received the intelligence from his wife at Innisfail, Alta., that he is the father of a bouncing big boy. It is stated that Mr. Craig will build an addition to his blacksmith shop.

T. Conner has gone to Tobacco Plains to round up his band of horses and discover them. He will return in about a month. He got a good crop of hay and vegetable off his Number Three creek ranch this season.

Mr. and Mrs. Mills and their daughter came up last week from Golden to Athalmer, where Mr. Mills is preparing to run the saw mill. Mrs. Mills will visit her many friends in the district and spend sometime with Mrs. Jas. L. McKay at Sinclair.

Mrs. C. Belmore and Mrs. R. A. Power went up to the Pemarigan Mines last Friday, returning home Sunday. They went right up to the workings on the Red Line claim and sid through the tunnel. They report that a lot of men are at work along the route preparing for the new saw mill and compressor plant.

Nelson News: C. W. Riley passed through Nelson on his way to the Paradise mine, in the Windermere district, of which property he is to have charge. Since he left the service of the Athabasca, "Charlie" has been in every corner of southern British Columbia, and he is now content to tie himself down to the Windermere district for some time to come.

Alfred Fortey arrived at Windermere last week from South Africa, looking none the worse for his experience in the the Boer war. This is the second time he has returned from the war, as he was accepted for service with the first contingent that went from Canada to South Africa. So that by now he is quite an old warrior and we hope to print some stories of his experiences in a future issue.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Brewer, of Fairmont, passed through town Monday on their way to Blowfly, where they remained until yesterday. Sam has not enjoyed good health for some week and says he feels he is getting old, but still he has more energy than many men who are twenty years his junior. Mrs. Brewer is just as young as ever and as full of life and happiness as it is possible for anyone to be. They called at our palace and left a bag of apples grown on their ranch that are really delicious fruit and go to show how fertile the land in this valley is. Mrs. Brewer spent several days last week visiting Mrs. J. Spencer up Findlay creek and says she had a fine time.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanbird and Mrs. Bulman came down from Blowfly Sunday and spent a day in Wilmer.

English church services are held in Wilmer every Sunday morning at 11 o'clock by Mr. E. A. Smyth. Everyone is invited to attend.

52 MEN ARRIVED

Last Thursday was rather an exciting day in Wilmer. About 4 a.m. the Hyak arrived, having on board G. A. Starke in company with 52 men from Vancouver for the Spring creek road. No difficulty was experienced until they reached here, then some miscreit-maker told the men they should get $3 a day instead of $2.50, and the men refused to go any further. Manager R. R. Bruce was at the mine as he received a false message stating the boat did not leave until Wednesday morning and had to be sent for. The difficulties were soon remedied and the men went up the hill Friday morning and started to work. They are a fine lot of men and it would be hard to pick up a better class anywhere. While in town some of them partook too freely of bourgeoise and entertained the citizens with no less than fourteen friendly little scraps—they simply had to let loose their surplus energy and the change to a dry cigar atmosphere overjoyed them. One good natured fellow brought along a big revolver to defend himself from bears and wanted to shoot some person just to be sure it worked well, but was relieved of his weapon.

A ROAD BADLY NEEDED

Prospectors That Should Receive Encouragement

The concensus of opinion is that there is the making of a big mine in the Lead Queen group of claims, situated on Number Three creek. Every man who visits the group returns with the firm conviction that the showing of ore is the best yet discovered in the camp for the amount of development accomplished. The property is owned by Tom Brown, Sam Derr and Henry Schweigerth, and considering the amount of work done by these prospectors the group could not have fallen into better hands.

Already these boys have several carloads of ore on the dump and last week they packed 20 sacks of it down to Firlands, which they have shipped to the smelter for sampling purposes. They have since returned with sufficient supplies to keep them working for a long time.

It has already been ascertained that the ore is of good grade and will bear shipping. There is only one obstacle in the way of these enterprising prospectors that keeps them from making shipments of ore and that is the need of a road up the creek. This they not only need but deserve and it is to be hoped the Government will not delay in building a road up the creek.

Prospectors of this stamp are too few and when they show such commendable energy their efforts should be recognized and every assistance rendered them.

An engineer has already partly been over the country looking out a sleigh road, so let us hope the road will soon be constructed.

News has been received of the death of Mrs. Devlin, which occured Thursday morning in Victoria. Mrs. Devlin formerly resided in Golden, where she was highly respected by all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance. Much sympathy is left for Mr. and Miss Devlin in their bereavement.

Golden Nuggets

(From Our Correspondent.)

Golden, Sept. 8.

On entering the office of P. Burns & Co.'s meat market Tuesday, R. J. Robinson, manager, discovered that the sum of $100 in cash had been stolen from the safe during the night. The thief evidently found it no difficult matter to gain an entrance through the office window, which faces the river bank. It is surprising that in a town of this size someone is capable of such a crime. So far no trace of the guilty party has been discovered, who was apparently rather smart, leaving no clue whatever behind.

A. Fortey, of Windermere, arrived from South Africa today. N. Dewar is also expected any day.

M. Carlin left for the west this morning.

Nearly every week word comes from Field that some one has been relieved of their spare cash. Last week one party had $125 stolen from him and another over $300. Someone is evidently reaping quite a harvest.

A party of gentlemen from Chicago, but whose headquarters are located at San Francisco, have been in town recently. They were, F. W. Page, president of the Vulcan Smelting & Refining Co., A. Ingalsbe, secretary, and Mr. Hubbald, metallurgist. These three gentlemen, accompanied by Messrs. M. Grinaird and O. D. Bear, went out to the Good Luck property and were highly pleased with the prospects and found things looking very well. They spent a few days at the Good Luck and on their return to town visited the new location on Hospital creek and selected the site for the smelter. A ditch is to be constructed at once, which will be a mile long, having a fall of 220 feet and a force equal to 150 horse power.

While out trapshooting this afternoon Hugh Gordon met with a rather painful accident. He was in the pit setting off birds when a bullet, intended for a pigeon, struck a stone and bounced back striking Gordon on the back of the head inflicting a painful flesh wound. The wound was dressed as soon as possible and a portion of the bullet, which had lodged in the flesh, was removed. Mr. Gordon is to be congratulated on his narrow escape from a serious accident.

Mrs. J. S. Cobb is leaving for her future home in Victoria in a few days.

J. N. Gladdon is expected from Chicago daily. On his arrival in town he will proceed to Simmons with Messrs. Bear and Wells on business. They intend combining business with pleasure and expect to have some good shooting and fishing.

The tennis lovers are taking advantage of fine afternoons.

Arrangements are being completed for the purpose of having two dances every month during the fall and winter. These will be much appreciated as the long evenings are rather tiresome.

Mrs. Harrison had the misfortune to fall down stairs last week. Fortunately no bones were broken, and we are glad to say she is progressing nicely and will soon be quite recovered.

The Palliser mill has closed down for the present.

Golden, Sept. 13.

The steamer Selkirk arrived in town this evening.

Rev. Mr. Herdman, of Calgary, is in town and will hold service in the Presbyterian church tomorrow.

Mrs. J. Henderson, who has been out to the International group of mines for about three weeks, has returned to town and enjoyed her trip exceedingly.

Mrs. Sprague and Miss C. Lang returned on Wednesday from their trip, while away they had a thoroughly good time. Mrs. Sprague left on Friday's delayed Imperial for Montreal.

Warning to Canada

Mayor Lighthall Prays Canada to Take a Lesson From U. S. and Adopt Public Ownership

W. D. Lighthall, mayor of Westmount, recently delivered an address before the convention of the League of American Municipalities, at Grand Rapids, Mich., during which he went very full into the question of municipal institutions in Canada. After alluding to various particulars in which Canada resembles the United States, saying that "we are moving fast on the way to becoming another United States," and that, "not as a dependency, but a nation—an independent nation—belonging to the British Empire by our own free will alone, Mr. Lighthall continued: "The next point of family likeness of our people to yours is the identity of their daily life and institutions. From the address delivered last year by my able and popular friend, Mayor Arbuthnot, of Winnipeg, you are aware that municipal institutions every where throughout Canada are established on the same general lines as in the United States.

"This brings up what to my mind is the greatest question with which the Canadian people are face to face—public ownership, for municipal ownership is only part of the larger national question. Seventy years ago your people, like ours, were the owners of a wonderful common heritage of lands, mines and forests. Where is that common heritage today? It has been parted with. You are far on the way to the land monopolies, the oil monopolies, the coal and copper and money system of Europe, and you are realizing that the golden age of free land for all is over, that the foreign mother America is seeing arise before her a multitude of disinherited children, and that even the liberty of the citizens is becoming contracted by the power of the concentrations of wealth. Many rich men regret this as well as the poor. It is the fault of a bad system of dealing with public resources.

"As a nation we Canadians now stand where you did. We have that wide ungranted common heritage. It is disappearing as yours did, and I hope to God we may take your lesson and that of old Europe to heart before it is much later. The palsy that oppresses the European nations—the palsy of a heartless economic system—is creeping gradually over both yours and ours, and we must take prompt fresh. In our older districts we have even now parted, as you have done, with too much of the heritage of the people, and the means of recquiring, so far as can be what is necessary for their use, lies largely with the municipalities. We older communities must defeat the public utility grabbers, the water power grabbers, the quailing trusts, largely by means of municipal ownership. We have begun like you to try to do this. As a whole the public ownership problem is complicated and difficult—not to be solved at a stroke by some wild revolution or ignorant panacea. In Canada the municipal ownership of water works is general; parks and libraries are being opened rapidly.

"But though the redemptive process is slow in the long-settled communities, the field is obviously much clearer for the protection of the people in those yet unoccupied regions where wise legislation by the Governments before they have granted the common heritage, could forestall the threatening evils and endow the municipalities of the future, as well as the future generations, with generous reserves of fundamental rights. Perhaps the imposition of such reserves in national grants may turn out but a dream, but with our great American sympathy with freedom of all kinds, you will be glad to hear of that dream, and of the impending efforts to bring it about. "Briton never shall be slaves," and neither will you, the grandsons of Britons and children of the revolution, ever submit to slavery. Gentlemen, I have an unbounded confidence in the American people and I believe it capable of ultimately conquering all its problems and all the difficulties of civilization. I have the same sober confidence in my own people and in the other English speaking peoples with whom you and we divide the dominion of the world. In the march towards happiness and all development, let us step together in spirit, clothed though we may be in the home rule freedom of the various governments of our separate choice.

"In explaining to you, then, the closeness of the similarity between our two nations and their struggle for improvement, I appeal to you to do all in your power to foster good relations between them. At times we hear a few foolish words about 'rival nations,' 'annexations' and so forth. They are futile and unworthy. Let us rather aim to help each other along. Let us have increased knowledge of and sympathy and fellow feeling with each other. It stands to reason that by means of such a friendly spirit there ought to result some day an intimate union of some kind between two people so alike, so near, so bent upon the same ideals; a union voluntary, largest trust as large as the entire English speaking world. Whatever the form, it will receive, quietly it not conspicuously, no small part of its impetus from our intercommunion and sympathy in this vast and vital matter of municipal improvement."

Last week Police Officer Laing received a telegram to meet the east bound train and arrest a party supposed to be on board charged with defrauding Queensland Railway Co. near Fremont, 20th of last Dec. Officer Laing boarded the train and found a person who answered the description he had received. The gentleman declared he was not the party, but was detained in Golden until it was proved that a mistake had been made. The gentleman's name was A. Henderson, of James Henderson & Co., of Glasgow, who left home Dec. 6th on a pleasure trip around the world. On the ship he came over on there were two other Henderson's and it is in all probability that it was one of these, who are being looked for. Mr. Henderson left for his home in Scotland on Thursday.

It is to be regretted that there are men in this district who are "knockers," but as these cattle, clothed as angels of light, are found in every locality, it is not surprising that some have wandered into these green pastures.

The tourist trade should be sought after by the people of this valley. There is money in it, but energy and money must be spent before a profit is made. Other portions of this province are making their tourist associations a success, why not try it here?

Prof. Haeckel, the German scientist, says that children when lost in the forests adopt monkey habits. This discovery is claimed as striking evidence that monkeys are descended from man and not man from monkeys. It might be serious if this discovery leads up to positive proof as the price of "blue-blood" would advance rapidly on the United States market, or a trust might be formed to limit the production.

The man who charges the prosperity of others to Luck is a cipher, and too lazy to be anything else. Luck is rising at 6 in the morning, doing your morning duties in the morning; working when you work; minding your own business; keeping your mouth shut and eyes and ears open; trusting in God and your own resources; keeping appointments; paying your debts and collecting your bills, and never leaving to chance and some other fellow something to be done that is worth doing and you can do.—The Ledge.

If the Dominion Government wants to do something for the lead mining industry it can easily find a way. Let it regulate freight rates and fetch the railroads to time. Then let it cut down the tariff on mining supplies. Canadian manufacturers can not or will not suit themselves to the mining trade and there is no reason why the mining industry should be made to pay so dearly for the lack of enterprise these manufacturers display. The mining industry can stand on its own feet if it gets half a show. Make the other industries do the same thing and the mine owners will have no kick coming, says the Sandon Paystreak. The Dominion Government might also allow the Provincial more of the B. C. revenue.

The time is not far distant when a great army of men will be employed in this camp and it behooves the men now here to cultivate friendship with their employers by acting fairly and squarely. Now is the time to build a good foundation and in future hundreds will be thankful for it and the respect and friendship of the business people, ranchers and others will be obtained. Employers know the value and power of the workingman's friendship and fairness and know that they must respect it. But when the men take advantage of employers it is only reasonable that trouble will result. So far no serious trouble has occured in this camp, and it is to be hoped harmony will always reign here.

In Canada it is more and more the tendency to diminate the "strike" entirely or employ it only with the greatest prudence and as a last resort. Negotiation, arbitration, compromise, are the means which the labor bodies of the Dominion employ to obtain the results they are striving after—these and legislation. The consequence of this, says the Vancouver Province, has been that the labor movement in Canada has secured the sympathy of practically all classes of our people, and when they adopt a determined stand, have that strength behind them which even full coffers cannot give.

One of the chief factors in creating this sentiment of justice and consideration among the laboring classes in this country has been the Trades and Labor Congress; and through this Labor Parliament laws of the utmost importance in the interests of the working man have been obtained. The work done by the Congress has been recognized by labor bodies the world over, and its usefulness has been admitted by every intelligent workman in Canada. Since

IT IS TIME.

In the age when gold is king,
Seated on a brazen throne;
When 'tis thought the proper thing
Rating men by what they own;
When the brute is tame and mean,
And the spirit less and less;
When the worst is lauded o'er
By corrupted toadyeses;
It is time that men of worth
Boldly stepped into the van,
With their challenge to the earth;
Down with Mammon, up with Man.

We have seen the tiller feast,
While the toiler toiled for bread;
We have seen the king and priest
Rob the living and the dead;
We have seen the third arrayed
In the purple robes of state,
While the honest man was made
To beg silver at the gate.
It has never been the same
Since the reign of wealth began;
Let us stop the sickening game.
Down with Mammon, up with Man.

Earth is far to wise and old
For a farthing or a slave;
To respect a cap of gold
On the forehead of a knave;
To be still the war and hate,
Old enough for brotherhood;
Wise enough to found a state
Built around the toilsome good;
We have lived for self too long,
Let us try a better plan;
Let us live to lift the throng.
Down with Mammon, up with Man.

Many of the brightest, best,
Of the earth were counted poor;
Some possessed "not where to rest;"
Others toiled and hard-ships bore.
Homer, in the days of Greece,
Sang and begged from day to day;
Bed-lah, born with palaces,
Flung as baubles all away.
Wealth is by the devil prized;
God has placed it on a ban;
Let us hear the people, Christ;
Down with Mammon, up with Man.

O! are people will you heed?
Be no more like beasts of prey,
Turn from selfishness and greed.
Let us find a nobler way.
From the storm and lust of old,
Let us make the whole world free.
Down with kings and priests and gold,
Up with toil, humanity.
Last for gain breeds hate and crime,
Let us reach it while we can;
Let us bring the better time.
Down with Mammon, up Man.

Boy's Essay on Newspapers.

"Newspapers are sheets of paper on which stuff to read is printed. The men look over it to see if their names are in it. I don't know how newspapers came into the world. I don't think God does. The Bible says nothing about editors, and I never heard of one being in heaven. The first editor I heard of was the fellow who stole up the flood. He has been here ever since. Some editors belong to the church and some try to raise whiskers. All of them try to raise hell in their neighborhood. Sometimes the paper dies and then people feel glad, but some one starts it up again. Editors never went to school because editors never get licked. The paper is a mighty poor one, but we take it so as can see it on her pantry shelves. Our editor don't amount to much, but pas said he was a good citizen when he was a boy, the same without undertakers in the kitchen, wears no socks and has a wife to support him. Pas has not paid his subscription in five years, and don't intend to." Ex.

SOUTH MAIL SERVICE

Another Meeting Will Shortly be Held

When the people of the Windermere district decide that they need anything for the advancement of this district they go after it and are not to be put off or easily discouraged. Last spring they decided their interests demanded a mail service from Wilmer to Cranbrook and so held a mass meeting, signed petitions and address many letters to the Post Master General, which he is still considering.

The business transacted here demands two mails a week and demands a service to the mining country to the south with direct connection with the Crow's Nest Pass Ry. and there will be no way of consoling the people of this district until this mail service is established.

Mr. Brigport arrived Monday by stage from Nelson. He is a mining engineer and has gone up to the Paradise.

A Springfield newspaper reporter who is a "crowd father" is said to be responsible for the following: "He walked away the hours while his heir in gurgles strong kept the bedroom walls a-ringing with a stirring marching song. Not a swear word did he utter as the wind a-blocked up his back; not a murmur did he mutter as he trod the upturned tack—but he inwardly decided that when baby's years are four, he will get a wa[illegible]
